The Kita Series features seating with graceful arms constructed of steam-bent solid wood. The time-honored art of steam bending ensures that the wood grain remains continuous and uniform. Particularly appropriate to the demands of Kita's design, steam bending produces wood structures far superior in strength and beauty to their glued and joined counterparts.

Thoughtfully scaled for conference and guest seating, the furniture in this series is offered in several styles, each available in your choice of maple, cherry, or oak and in a variety of finishes.
